If you typically always see all ten targets shown on the HUD and would like to only see a subset of those targets, like shown on the right, there is a simple way to do this with the Kestrel.

How to Hide Targets on the Kestrel HUD

On the main Ballistics screen, scroll down to Target Card and press center button.

Press the center button on more time to get to Target Inputs.

Highlight Target Inputs and press the center button.

Note: Even though the default when you clear targets is 100 yards, if you manually enter 100 yards it will show up on HUD as the Kestrel thinks you want that value in there.

Only clearing them and not changing them will remove them from HUD display

When you exit out and connect to the Kestrel HUD, only the targets you changed will show up.
